SPDG Evidence-based Professional Development Components

Worksheet Instructions

Use the SPDG Evidence-Based Professional Development Components worksheet to provide descriptions of evidence-based professional development practices implemented during the reporting year to support the attainment of identified competencies.

Complete one worksheet for each initiative and provide a description relevant to each of the 16 professional development components (A1 through E2).

Provide a rating of the degree to which each description contains all necessary information (e.g., contains the elements listed in the “PD components” column) related to professional development practices being implemented: 1=inadequate description or a description of planned activities, 2=barely adequate description, 3=good description, and 4=exemplar description. Please note that if you are describing a plan to implement an activity, it will not be considered as part of the evidence for the component. Only those activities already implemented will be considered in scoring the component description.

The “PD components” column includes several broad criteria for elements that grantees should include in the description to receive the highest possible rating. Refer to the SPDG Evidence-Based Professional Development Components rubric (Rubric A) for sample descriptions corresponding with each of the ratings.

Professional development (PD) domains	PD components (with required elements the description should contain)	Project description of related activities (please note if you are attaching documents)	Project's self-rating

The checklist provides a way to determine whether professional development follows adult learning principles. It can also be used to provide ongoing feedback and coaching or as a guidance document when designing or revising professional development. The 21-item tool addresses five domains present in high-quality professional development: Preparing for Learning, Contextualizing the Content, Engaging in Learning, Reflecting on Learning, and Transferring Learning Practice. The HQPD was designed to be completed by an observer to determine the level of quality of professional development training. It can also be used to provide ongoing feedback and coaching to individuals who provide professional development training. Furthermore, it can be used as a guidance document when designing or revising professional development. The tool represents a compilation of research-identified indicators that should be present in high-quality professional development. Professional development training with a maximum of one item missed per domain on the checklist can be considered high quality. Citation: Gaumer Erickson, A.S., Noonan, P.M., Ault, M., Monroe, K., & Brussow, J. In training for coaches and other SPDG school staff, trainers use adult learning strategies such as think-pair-share, gradual release of responsibility, and role playing. During the monthly coaching webinars, trainers share and model adult learning strategies that can be used during professional development sessions at their respective schools. Description of how data are gathered to assess how well adult learning strategies were implemented: The HQPD is collected on each coach once per year. The results of the HQPD along with the End-of-Training evaluation is shared with the appropriate trainer/coach. The data is used to make and/or increase changes in the delivery of the training/workshop, which considers adult learning strategies.	3

B(3) Training	Training is skill-based (e.g., participant behavior rehearsals to criterion with an expert observing).^{3,5} Required elements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Description of skills that participants were expected to acquire as a result of the training. ● Description of activities conducted to build skills. ● Description of how participants' use of new skills was measured. 	Description of skills that participants were expected to acquire as a result of the training. At the beginning of each training, clear expectations and objectives are specified. In addition, over the five-year grant period, participants are expected to gain knowledge/skills in these areas: Foundational Literacy Training During foundational literacy training, trainers provide research background and explanation of the five big areas of foundational literacy (phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension). Trainers also model instructional strategies that are evidence-based. At the end of each training, teachers demonstrate their understanding of the content and skill by modeling a lesson (or lesson component) that includes evidence-based practices. Skills included in the Foundational Literacy trainings include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Matching phonological awareness and phonics skills to student grade/ability ● Teaching blending strategies that are appropriate for student grade/ability ● Providing instruction on specific aspects of fluency (ex: phrasing, intonation, reading rate) ● Teaching new vocabulary words following a structured step-by step sequence ● Modeling and providing practice opportunities for word-learning strategies (using context clues, known word parts, and morphemic analysis) ● Providing direct explanation and modeling of key comprehension terms. ● Monitoring metacognitive control and providing opportunities for students to practice metacognitive control. ● Providing multiple opportunities for students to respond to text (through writing, verbally, using technology tools) Explicit Instruction During explicit instruction training, trainers provide research background and explanation of the importance of explicit instruction for all students, and specifically for students struggling to grasp the content/skills. Trainers also model evidence-based explicit instruction skills as part of a comprehensive lesson model. At the end of each training, teachers demonstrate their understanding of explicit instruction by modeling a lesson (or lesson component) that includes explicit instruction skills. Skills included in the Explicit Instruction training include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Lesson Opening <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ State the goal of the lesson ○ Explain the relevance of the target skill ○ Review critical prerequisite skills ● Lesson Body <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ I Do - Demonstrate the target skill 	4

Training materials and objectives are provided for schools. Due to COVID-19, many schools were unable to provide face-to-face training, but instead offered the training through online training modules. During the online training, families learn basic information about early literacy skills in phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension. Families also see models of skills and activities that families can implement at home to build literacy skills. Skills included in the training include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Selecting tools and activities that match my child’s reading level and needs. ● Review model activities related to my child’s reading level and needs. ● Try a model activity with my child(ren) and share how it went (post-survey). Description of activities conducted to build skills. During training, participants are given the opportunity to practice skills through small group scenarios and other activities. Throughout the training, trainers observe teachers practicing the skills included in the training, and the trainers provide on-the-spot feedback to teachers. Throughout the school year, coaches provide follow-up support to ensure skills are being applied with fidelity. Description of how participants’ use of new skills was measured. Participants are given a pre-test and post-test to measure skills gained. Participants complete an end-of-PLD survey to provide feedback on the effectiveness of the training. Each spring, an external observer visits each participating building. The external observer watches teachers teach a lesson in general education, special education, and intervention settings and uses the Observation Checklist to determine if teachers are applying the skills taught during professional development. Coaches also use the Observation Checklist informally as part of their coaching observations and feedback to teachers.

The questionnaires are completed online using the internal web-based portal system that collects, analyzes, and generates reports in real-time. The questionnaire includes rating scales and open-ended questions to gather both qualitative and quantitative information from participants. Information gathered from these questionnaires are provided to trainers as a tool for reflection and to inform future training sessions. Description of how observation and training fidelity data were used: Data from the HQPD and End-of-PLD Questionnaires is shared with trainers and used to plan next steps according to the data reports. Data is also shared with schools and districts to identify strengths and needs for future training topics and delivery methods. In the fall of 2020, fidelity data indicated that one trainer was omitting practice opportunities during her training. This information was reviewed with the trainer, and as a result, the trainer increased the practice opportunities and engagement activities during training later in the school year.

The End-of-PLD Questionnaires are completed and reported on after each training conducted by a coach. In addition, the Coaching Activities Tracking System is used to track the number and type of coaching activities that each individual coach is doing. Summary reports by coach and across coaches are generated and reviewed by the SPDG Co-Directors and Coaching Coordinator once per quarter. The Coaching Coordinator holds onsite meetings with each coach at his/her school. During this meeting, the Coaching Coordinator shares coach-specific data, provides time and tools to reflect on coaching practices, and follows up on coaching goals. Data from the coaching survey is used to identify program strengths and needs and to develop coaching training and supports for the following year.
C(2) Coaching	SPDG coaches use multiple sources of information in order to provide assistive feedback to those being coached and also provide appropriate instruction or modeling. Required elements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Should describe the coaching strategy used and the appropriateness for use with adults (i.e., evidence provided for coaching strategies).⁶ 	Describe the coaching strategy used and the appropriateness for use with adults. Coaches are trained in and follow the Jill Jackson coaching cycle (© Jackson Consulting, 2012). Coaches begin each year by conducting walk-throughs to determine the need for coaching in each classroom. The coach uses that data to develop an initial coaching schedule and timeframe for each K-5 teacher (general education and special education) based on each teacher’s need. A coaching cycle consists of three key events:	3

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Describe how SPDG coaches monitored implementation progress. ● Describe how the data from the monitoring is used to provide feedback to implementers. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Pre-Conference: The coach and teacher meet to identify the content and skill focus of the coaching cycle. The coach and teacher agree upon an observation or lesson model and schedules a date for the observation or lesson model and the debrief. The coach determines what data tool will be needed to collect information on the skill focus. ● Observation/Model: The coach conducts one of the five styles of coaching (observation, demonstration, side-by-side, co-observation, or shadow). During the coaching, the observer takes notes and collects data on the pre-identified target skill. ● Debrief: The coach and teacher meet at the predetermined time to review the data and feedback. They review the lesson strengths and areas of need/growth. The teacher reflects on the lesson and used the data to improve his/her teaching skills. This style of coaching provides job-embedded professional development to teachers. Coaching engages teachers in applying the skills and strategies studied in professional development throughout the school year. Teachers are actively engaged in the coaching cycle – they work with the coach to identify a target skill (Pre-Conference), model a lesson or collect data while observing a lesson (Observation/Model), and use the data and feedback to improve their teaching skills (Debrief). Describe how SPDG coaches monitored implementation progress. Coaches monitor implementation progress through regular coaching cycles with general education and special education teachers. At the beginning of the school year, coaches conduct walkthroughs in classrooms to determine the level of coaching need for each teacher. Based on the data collected, coaches complete a coaching cycle with each teacher anywhere from once per week to once per 6 weeks. During each coaching cycle, the coach is collecting data and qualitative feedback to monitor how effectively teachers are implementing skills taught during professional development. Coaches also use this data to adjust coaching cycle timelines to match teacher needs throughout the year. Describe how the data from the monitoring is used to provide feedback to implementers. During the debrief portion of the coaching cycle, the coach and teacher review data collected in the observation/model portion of the coaching cycle. The coach asks the teacher to reflect on the lesson and shares the data collected that is relevant to the target skill. The coach uses the data to highlight strengths of the lesson and identify up to two specific adjustments for improving teaching skills. The coach and teacher determine a timeline for implementing skill adjustments, and the coach follows up with the teacher on the predetermined date.

		The coach also shares results from the R-TFI and Family Engagement surveys with the school teams to help them determine what changes are needed in their MTSS practices. The R-TFI results are the basis of the feedback shared with each school team. Next steps for implementing MTSS are created based on that data. The Family Engagement Surveys also serve as a critical piece for the building leadership team in terms of being the guiding force for the activities that a school needs to improve upon to make sure that family engagement is on track.

In collaboration with the SPDG team, DDE has developed an internal web-based portal system that collects, analyzes, and reports real-time PD and coaching activities. Dr. Wagner has over 25 years of program evaluation experience and over 15 years of SPDG evaluation experience. Duties include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Collects fidelity data (e.g., R-TFI and other evaluation measures) on a regular basis. ● Reports out on the analysis to the SPDG Co-Directors and leadership team. ● Meets with SPDG State Leadership Team monthly. ● Addresses evaluation concerns and questions. 	4

The SD SPDG uses the R-TFI online system to monitor fidelity of implementation. To track SPDG training and coaching activities, we use the internal web-based portal. This site has also been successfully used with the SD MTSS and SD SSIP projects. In addition to tracking activities, this system collects and analyzes training evaluation data. These evaluation reports are generated in real-time. Describe how alignment or coherence is achieved between various data systems or sources of data. All evaluation measures (e.g., end-of-PLD questionnaires, R-TFI, student outcomes data, staff surveys, coaching activities form, etc.) are compiled into a SPDG Dashboard report for the state and individual school/district teams. All measures are thoroughly analyzed and disaggregated and compared in order to identify patterns and common themes. Building and district level reports are shared with district personnel using a secure FTP process. This ensures data and student information is secure and shared only with identified personnel in each district.	3

		The detailed Evaluation Plan describes each evaluation measure, its purpose, the participants, the data collection method, and timeline. D(3) Performance Assessment	Implementation fidelity and student outcome data are shared regularly with stakeholders at multiple levels (SEA, regional, local, individual, community, other agencies).¹⁰ Required elements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Describe the feedback loop for each level of the system the SPDG works with <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Describe how these data are used for decision-making to ensure improvements are made in the targeted outcome areas. ● Describe how fidelity data inform modifications to implementation drivers (e.g., how can Selection, Training, and Coaching better support high fidelity).¹⁰ 	Describe the feedback loop for each level of the system the SPDG works with <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Describe how these data are used for decision-making to ensure improvements are made in the targeted outcome areas. The data is submitted by coaches, educators, and districts. Building teams review their data annually at the building leadership team meetings. During this time, teams use their data to reflect on growth and continued areas of need and to develop and update action plans that will guide their work the following year. The SPDG Co-Directors share this information with the SPDG Advisory group twice per year for feedback and recommendations. Recommendations from the SPDG Advisory Group are shared with the SPDG State Leadership Team and used to drive change at the state level. Describe how fidelity data inform modifications to implementation drivers (e.g., how can Selection, Training, and Coaching better support high fidelity). The R-TFI is a detailed examination of the extent to which a school is implementing the critical components of the MTSS process. Other evaluation measures (e.g., End-of-PLD Questionnaire, Classroom Observation Checklist, Intervention Tracking Forms, Coaching Survey, Family Engagement Surveys) are reviewed by the schools, coaches, and SPDG Leadership Team when the data are available. All these data together help inform what is working well at the school level surrounding the implementation drivers of selection, training, and coaching. For example, the coaching survey that is completed by school team members will provide information on the effectiveness of the building coaches and what modifications, if any, need to be made in the coaching process.	3

During annual Building Leadership Team Meetings, building teams review data from each year of implementation and revise action plans in preparation for the upcoming school year. In addition to the R-TFI data, student outcome data is collected from each school to examine growth in student literacy scores from fall to spring and from spring to spring. The R-TFI results and student outcome results are shared with the building team, the coach, and the SPDG State Leadership Team. Results across all SPDG schools are generated to look for common needs across the state. Describe positive recognition processes for achievements. Progress (e.g., growth in R-TFI, increase in benchmark scores) is celebrated during the annual Building Leadership Team meetings, including prizes and treats. This information is then shared with the state leadership team and advisory group and is also used to create personalized notes of congratulations to each SPDG school. Describe how data are used to “market” the initiative. The SPDG State Leadership team promotes SPDG training and successes through DOE social media platforms (DOE Twitter, Facebook, YouTube channel) and the state professional development scheduling system. Monthly emails are sent to participants with upcoming evaluation components to be collected and submitted.

During the 2020-2021 school year, all SPDG building principals were invited to attend a virtual training on the administrator's role and relationship with the SPDG coach. This training was also opened to non-SPDG administrators. After the training, a survey was sent to participants to identify areas of need. Survey results were used to develop a series of webinars to continue supporting the administrators in their role with the SPDG grant. During annual Building Leadership Team meetings, the principals participate in a targeted discussion on their perspective of the SPDG grant, goals and needs to sustain grant activities, and share feedback on supports that would be helpful to them in the future. This feedback assists in developing administrator support through the remainder of the grant timeline. The SD SPDG website (http://www.doe.sd.gov/grants/SPDG.aspx) has been developed to house all key SPDG-related documents and resources, including those needed by SPDG administrators. This information is also shared at monthly SPDG State Leadership Team meetings. Building/District: Each building holds a monthly building leadership team meeting. The team includes the building principal, instructional coach, teacher, at least one general education teacher, and at least one special education teacher. The team reviews building-level data and implementation progress. The team documents implementation progress on a building-level action plan (https://doe.sd.gov/grants/documents/SPDG-ActionPlan.docx). When implementation barriers are identified, the team attempts to address the barriers at the building and/or district level. If the team needs additional assistance, the building principal or coach contacts a SPDG Co-Director for guidance and support. If the Co-Director needs additional information or assistance in responding to the implementation barrier, the issue is brought to a SPDG State Leadership Team meeting to be addressed. In addition to the monthly building leadership team meetings, SPDG Co-directors lead an annual leadership teams meeting each spring. These meetings provide time for all teams to review data, share successes and challenges, revise building action plans and work on action plans and sustainability planning. State Level: The SPDG State Leadership Team meets monthly to review progress updates and address any concerns brought to the team by team members or building leadership teams. The SPDG State Leadership Team includes the SPDG Co-Directors, Parent Training and Information (PTI) Center representative, IHE representative, Coaching Coordinator, state MTSS Coordinator, external evaluator, meeting facilitator, and representatives from other state offices. The State Leadership Team documents state-level implementation progress on a shared Google document and through shared monthly agendas and meeting notes. When implementation barriers are identified, the SPDG State Leadership team attempts to address the barriers during the state meeting. If the team needs additional assistance, a SPDG Co-Director contacts a state-level division director or the SPDG State Advisory Committee for guidance and support.

If a change in policy or procedure is made, building and district leadership are notified through email and provided an attachment to any related documents.

South Dakota State Personnel Development Grant (SPDG) 2020-21 Evaluation Plan

SPDG Project Goal: Develop a systematic, cohesive, collaborative, and sustainable evidence-based literacy model for struggling readers, especially students with specific learning disabilities in grades K-5. This system must use data driven decision making to ensure interventions and instruction are appropriate and effective. The use of evidence-based literacy strategies and strategies that support family engagement are also required pieces of this grant. Schools will be using the Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) framework and will have access to an instructional coach to ensure fidelity and sustainability of the grant's elements over time.

Throughout the third year of the grant, literacy coaches will receive continued training in data analysis, foundational reading skills, and explicit instruction strategies to support their role in districts.

- "I really enjoyed the hands-on practice in a lesson to see how this works in the classroom."
 - "Offered new ideas to implement into my teaching that wouldn't require a lot of work, but would be very beneficial to the students."
 - "Very good information on reading in general. Motivated me to keep trying to improve on what's already been started. Noted the reemphasis on the materials available to assist with interventions. Will work to narrow down the specific needs of each student in an intervention group."

SECTION A - Performance Objectives Information and Related Performance Measures Data (See Instructions. Use as many pages as necessary.)

SD SPDG Explanation of Progress (Additional Attachment)

SPDG Program Measure 1: Projects use evidenced-based professional development practices to support the attainment of identified competencies.

The evaluation measures that pertain to Project Objective 1 and that were administered in 2020-21 include:

- Tracking System for all professional learning & development (PLD) trainings
- End-of-PLD Evaluations (evaluations completed at the end of each PLD training)

Attachment B, the SD SPDG Evaluation Plan, explains all the SD SPDG evaluation tools. A manual of evaluation tools is available online here: <https://doe.sd.gov/grants/documents/SPDG-Manual.pdf>. An online evaluation system tracked professional development trainings and included information about who delivered the training, who attended the training, and the date. Built into the site is a data collection and reporting feature for end-of-training evaluations. The online evaluation system requires a log-in to enter data and review reports.

The 2019-20 Dashboard Report was finalized, and a preliminary 2020-21 Dashboard Report was created that summarizes the evaluation data related to all project objectives, including Objective 1. Attachment C, the 2019-20 SD SPDG State-Level Dashboard Report, is the state-level data representing the last reporting year. Attachment D, the 2020-21 SD SPDG State-Level Dashboard Report, is the state-level data representing this reporting year. In addition to the statewide Dashboard Reports, Dashboard Reports for each district and each school were created. School teams review them in on-site trainings and use them for action planning.

As of March 31, 2021, 63 trainings were administered during the 2020-21 school year. A total of 364 unique participants attended the trainings. End-of training evaluation data was collected on these trainings and reported to the Advisory Team, State Leadership Team, and District Leadership Teams.

1a. Attachment A, the Evidence-Based Professional Development Components Worksheet, illustrates how the SD SPDG State Leadership Team scored the 16 professional development components. We will continue to focus on implementing and enhancing all Components in the 2021-22 school year. The 2020-21 score is 100%.

1b. – 1e. All PLD activities are tracked in terms of who delivered the training, to whom was the training delivered, date, and how the training was delivered. At the end of each training, participants complete an end-of-PLD training evaluation. Quarterly reports are generated. Because we believe strongly that the PLD delivered to the SPDG schools must have an impact on participant knowledge, skills, and job behaviors, and in turn on students, we have set project goals surrounding these areas.

- In 2020-21, a total of 164 end-of-PLD evaluations were completed on 11 of the 63 trainings (through March 31, 2021). 99% of these respondents indicated that the usefulness of training was "good," "very good," or "excellent;" 99% stated that their work-related knowledge has increased at least

"some;" 98% stated that their work-related skills have increased at least "some;" 94% stated that they will change something that they do back on the job based on what they learned in the training; 96% stated that the training would "probably" or "definitely" impact students.

- In 2019-20, a total of 467 end-of-PLD evaluations were completed on 38 of the 80 trainings. 98% of these respondents indicated that the usefulness of training was "good," "very good," or "excellent;" 97% stated that their work-related knowledge has increased at least "some;" 96% stated that their work-related skills have increased at least "some;" 95% stated that they will change something that they do back on the job based on what they learned in the training; 94% stated that the training would "probably" or "definitely" impact students.

1f. In the first two years of implementation, participants at the Literacy Strategies trainings took a pre- and post-test to assess their improvement in knowledge as a result of the training. Starting in year three, no Literacy Strategies trainings were administered unless there were new teachers. Because of the very small number of new teachers in any given school year, the Literacy Strategies trainings are blended into other trainings and as such, the pre-/post-test is not given.

SPDG Program Measure 2: Participants in SPDG professional development demonstrate improvement in implementation of SPDG supported practices over time.

Project Objective 2 measures administered in 2020-21 include:

- Reading Tiered Fidelity Inventory (R-TFI), an implementation survey completed by leadership teams at each school.
- Classroom Observation Checklist, a checklist used to determine if educators are implementing the core reading strategies with fidelity.
- Coaching Survey, a questionnaire that measures satisfaction with the coaching activities provided K-5 educators.
- Family Engagement Survey, a written questionnaire completed by family and school staff about the extent to which the school engage families.

In addition, we are tracking the number of coaching activities the coaches provide to the schools. Preliminary data from 2020-21 show that coaches provided 1,774 coaching activities to educators over topics such as student data, lesson delivery, phonics, and student engagement. In 2019-20, there were 2,869 coaching activities.

2.a. Fidelity of Implementation. For this measure, the R-TFI is used. SPDG schools completed this in fall 2018, spring 2019, and spring 2020. The schools will complete it again in spring 2021. External ratings were completed for 4 schools in spring 2020 and for 5 schools in spring 2021.

- Baseline data from fall 2018 self-ratings indicate that the 18 schools earned 50% of the points for Tier 1 overall.
- Data from the spring 2019 self-ratings indicate that the 18 schools earned 71% of the points for Tier 1 overall.
- Data from the spring 2019 external ratings indicate the 4 schools observed earned 66% of the points for Tier 1 overall.
- Data from the spring 2020 self-ratings indicate that 16 schools earned 74% of the points for Tier 1 overall, 69% of the points for Tier 2 overall, and 51% of the points for Tier 3 overall.
- Data from the spring 2020 external ratings indicate the 4 schools observed earned 81% of the points for Tier 1 overall, 72% of the points for Tier 2 overall, and 63% of the points for Tier 3 overall. Three (75%) of the four observed schools scored 70% or higher across all three tiers.
- Data from the spring 2021 external ratings indicate the 5 schools observed earned 74% of the points for Tier 1 overall, 69% of the points for Tier 2 overall, and 53% of the points for Tier 3 overall. Three (60%) of the five observed schools earned 70% or more of the possible points across all three tiers. One (20%) of the five observed schools earned over 90% of the possible points across all three tiers. Another observed school earned 61% of the possible points which is very close to the cut score of 70%.

These scores are expected to increase as staff members are trained and begin to implement MTSS. Scores from spring 2021 will be used to determine training needs in 2021-22.

2.b. Classroom Observation Checklist. Trained external observers assess whether instructional staff are implementing core reading strategies with fidelity.

- In spring 2019, 26 instructional staff were observed from five districts. 65% of instructional staff were observed implementing new strategies, skills, and/or knowledge with fidelity.
- In spring 2020, 23 instructional staff were observed from four districts. 17% of instructional staff were observed implementing new strategies, skills, and/or knowledge with fidelity. Due to COVID-19 and school closures in spring 2020, the external observer was unable to observe the other two SPDG districts.
- In spring 2021, 42 instructional staff were observed from all participating schools. 86% of instructional staff were observed implementing new strategies, skills, and/or knowledge with fidelity.

2.c. Coaching Survey. The Coaching Survey is administered twice every school year – in January and May. Results from January 2019, May 2019, and January 2020, May 2020, and January 2021 indicate that coaches are doing a great job. The survey will be administered again in May 2021.

- A total of 253 school staff members completed the coaching survey in January 2019. 95% indicated that their knowledge increased and 95% indicated that their skills increased because of the instructional assistance/coaching they had received from their coach. Detailed results are provided to each coach so that they can adjust the supports they provide to their schools.
- A total of 231 school staff members completed the coaching survey in May 2019. 95% indicated that their knowledge increased and 95% indicated that their skills increased because of the instructional assistance/coaching they had received from their coach.
- A total of 204 school staff members completed the coaching survey in January 2020. 98% indicated that their knowledge increased and 97% indicated that their skills increased because of the instructional assistance/coaching they had received from their coach.
- A total of 229 school staff members completed the coaching survey in May 2020. 98% indicated that their knowledge increased and 97% indicated that their skills increased because of the instructional assistance/coaching they had received from their coach.
- A total of 184 school staff members completed the coaching survey in January 2021. 97% indicated that their knowledge increased and 96% indicated that their skills increased because of the instructional assistance/coaching they had received from their coach.

Detailed results are provided to each coach so that they can adjust the supports they provide to their schools.

2.d. and 2.e. Family Engagement Survey. Two Family Engagement surveys (one for families and one for educators) were developed by SD Title 1 and were administered in fall 2019 and fall 2020. These surveys are administered every fall to examine improvements over time. There are two sets of items on the Family Engagement Survey that are used to rate the positivity of responses for both families and the staff. One set are general “climate” type items, e.g., “Families feel welcome at this school,” “Families are encouraged to participate in children’s classroom learning,” and “Students are challenged to do their best at this school.” The other set are “usefulness” items, e.g., “Rate the usefulness of the types of information the school provides to students’ families on how families can assist their child with learning at home, on how families can to help their child successfully complete reading schoolwork.

- In fall 2019, 1,141 family members from 5 districts and 305 educators from 4 districts completed the Family Engagement surveys. The fall 2019 data indicated overall positive results. For example, 93% of family members and 96% of educators stated that families are welcome at this school and students are treated with respect by teachers and staff. The data also suggested room for improvement. For example, 79% of family members and 74% of educators stated the school offers programs to families that will help promote learning in the home. The percent of educators/staff and families who rated the climate items positively are 86% and 84%, respectively. The percent of educators/staff and families who rated the usefulness items positively are 66% and 78%, respectively. (Note: A fairly high percentage of family respondents 9% said they didn’t recall receiving any of the information asked in the usefulness section – their responses were not included in the usefulness percent.) The percent of educators/staff and families who rated the combined two sets of items positively are 74% and 83%, respectively.

- In fall 2020, 1,156 family members from 6 districts and 363 educators from 5 districts completed the Family Engagement surveys. The family responses showed a decrease on all items from fall 2019 to fall 2020. However, the fall 2020 data indicated overall positive results. For example, 91% of family members and 95% of educators stated students are treated with respect by teachers and staff. The data also suggested room for improvement. For example, 70% of family members and 75% of educators stated the school offers programs to families that will help promote learning in the home. Between 75-77% of families rated the usefulness items positively while educators rated these items between 78-84% useful. (Note: Of the family respondents, 15-23% said they didn't recall receiving any of the information asked in the usefulness section – their responses were not included in the usefulness percent.) The percent of educators/staff and families who rated the combined two sets of items positively are 82% and 81%, respectively (these are the measures reported up above).

2.f. - 2.k. Impact on Student Performance. A key project measure is looking at the impact that the SPDG initiative has on student achievement. If fidelity measures indicate that practices are being implemented with fidelity, a corresponding increase in student achievement will be expected. Progress monitoring scores will be used to assess growth in achievement.

Benchmark Data:

- 2018-19:
 - 807 Grade K-5 students with disabilities took a benchmark test in fall 2018 and spring 2019. These students with disabilities increased their benchmark scores from 21.4% in fall 2018 to 27.4% in spring 2019.
 - 313 Grade K-5 students with specific learning disabilities took a benchmark test in fall 2018 and spring 2019. These students with specific learning disabilities increased their benchmark scores from 9.6% in fall 2018 to 14.4% in spring 2019.

U.S. Department of Education
Grant Performance Report (ED 524B)
Executive Summary

OMB No. 1894-0003
 Exp. 08/31/2020

PR/Award # (11 characters): H323A170015

The Executive Summary is a narrative summary of the project's accomplishments during the performance period.

The SD SPDG comprises four key areas: training in data-driven decision-making and the MTSS framework, instructional coaching, foundational literacy, and family engagement. SD SPDG materials and resources are located online at <https://doe.sd.gov/grants/SPDG.aspx>. Year 4 of implementation (10/01/20 – 09/30/21) focused on school-level implementation, ongoing training and supports, and continued data collection. Key activities during the reporting period included:

MTSS Framework – Schools continued with monthly building leadership team meetings during the school year. Although most meetings were held face-to-face, building leadership teams opted to meet virtually during school closures. During these meetings, each team reviews building level data and updates their action plan to track progress toward school-level, district-level, and state-level goals. Teams continued to utilize the norms and meeting protocols developed with the assistance of the MTSS facilitators. During the spring of 2021, building leadership teams will complete the R-TFI (Reading Tiered Fidelity Inventory) on the processes in all three tiers of instruction. Results from the R-TFI assist buildings in reviewing growth over time and identifying needs in developing and delivering tiered supports for students.

The annual SPDG building leadership team meetings were held virtually in spring 2020. The SPDG State Leadership team hosted a video-based meeting to review state-level, district-level, and building-level data with building teams. The teams reviewed their respective data and updated action plans for the upcoming school year. Feedback from schools during the spring 2020 building leadership team meetings indicated that the virtual meetings were well-received by participants. The SPDG State Leadership team used interactive tools including Google Docs, Google Jamboard, and online polls to increase engagement and collect participant feedback.

Foundational Literacy – SPDG coaches continued to provide professional development to their respective schools. Professional development focused on foundational literacy skills and explicit instruction. Several coaches also provided introductory training to new-to-district teachers. Training participants in all training included general education teachers, interventionists, special education teachers, and other staff members identified by the school. Although the goal is for each school to participate in 18 hours of professional development, some schools found that to be a challenge due to schedule changes related to COVID-19 guidelines.

In September 2020, a cohort group including SPDG coaches began a 2-year Language Essentials for Teachers of Reading and Spelling (LETRS) training. The training cohort completes the online weekly training modules and meets four times per year virtually to review content with a LETRS trainer. Feedback from the cohort has been positive and participants appreciate the deeper dive into foundational literacy research and instruction. The LETRS training will be offered to a second cohort of teachers and school leaders (including both SPDG and non-SPDG buildings) beginning in the 2021-2022 school year.

SPDG Coaching – SPDG coaches continued to follow the protocol in developing differentiated coaching plans and providing targeted coaching assistance to all K-5 educators in general education, title, and special education settings. Coaches received ongoing support and coaching from the Coaching Coordinator. The Coaching Coordinator conducted onsite visits and facilitated face-to-face meetings and monthly webinars. During onsite visits, the Coaching Coordinator reviewed teacher feedback provided through survey data and engaged SPDG coaches in reflecting and refining their coaching practices. SPDG coaches participated in book studies to further build their coaching skills and a LETRS training cohort to strengthen their knowledge and skills in foundational literacy. Ongoing training and support provides time for collaboration and skill-building.

Data-Driven Decision Making – The SPDG coaches continued to be an integral part of school-level data-driven decision-making processes. Each coach is a member of the building leadership team and assists in facilitating school-level data conversations after each benchmarking period. Coaches also utilized the SPDG Data Workbook to guide grade-level data conversations when grade level teams met to review progress monitoring data and made decisions on instruction and intervention for students.

As the SPDG State Leadership Team works toward sustainability of grant activities, SD DOE has adopted the SPDG Data Workbook as the South Dakota RTI Data Workbook. The workbook is currently being updated and will be accessible to all schools in the 2021-2022 school year.

Family Engagement – Buildings continued to offer a Read to Succeed training for families. The training is available as both a face-to-face and virtual training to accommodate the needs of each building. The virtual training option has also allowed us to reach families far beyond those enrolled in SD SPDG-participating districts. The modules are available at this link: <https://sdsfec.org/resource/read-to-succeed-literacy-course-for-parents/>.

An additional family literacy resource was shared with families during the 2019-2020 school year. The SPDG Family Engagement team initially planned to share monthly literacy newsletters to schools, but feedback from schools and families indicated that something shorter that could be included in existing family communication would be preferred. Based on this feedback, the SPDG Family Engagement team developed weekly family literacy tips. These tips were emailed to schools and family agencies who included them in school newsletters, on school websites, and on social media and other family communication platforms. Feedback from schools and families indicated that the short tips were helpful and easy to implement.

State Leadership – The SPDG State Leadership Team meets virtually every month to share updates and implementation progress and twice per year for data review and future planning. Due to COVID-19 guidelines, the SPDG State Leadership team conducted all meetings in 2020 virtually. The February 2021 data review meeting was held with both face-to-face and virtual options for participants. During the February meeting, the SPDG State Leadership Team focused on sustainability work at the state level. The team reviewed current training offered to SPDG participating schools and began developing a plan to sustain these training long-term and to scale-up training to be available to schools statewide.

Stakeholder Input – The SPDG Advisory Committee continues to meet twice per year to review state-level results and to provide input and advice to the SPDG State Leadership team. Due to COVID-19 guidelines, the SPDG State Advisory Committee team conducted the summer 2020 meeting virtually. The February 2021 meeting was held with both face-to-face and virtual options for participants. When the committee met in February 2021, they reviewed SD SPDG grant goals and key activities from the previous year. Key suggestions were gathered and shared with the SPDG State Leadership team in the areas of coaching, sustaining practices, and state-level initiative alignment. SPDG State Leadership team reviewed the feedback and continues to use it in developing plans to scale-up and sustain grant work.

SECTION B - Budget Information (See Instructions. Use as many pages as necessary.)

South Dakota expended most funds at the expected rate during the reporting period but anticipates having unexpended funds at the end of the grant year in the areas of travel and professional development. Due to the impact of COVID-19, much of the planned travel for training and meetings was cancelled. Most training and meetings were held virtually. South Dakota plans to utilize these unexpended funds by moving cancelled training to the next grant year and by expanding the amount of virtual training offered to schools. There were no changes to the budget that affected our ability to achieve approved project activities and/or project objectives. Because project activities and goals remain consistent, South Dakota will request to carry over remaining funds to year five as identified below.

Personnel

South Dakota continues to work to coordinate SPDG efforts with other initiatives with related goals, including SD MTSS (South Dakota Multi-Tiered Systems of Supports), SD SSIP (South Dakota State Systemic Improvement Plan), and South Dakota's 5-year plan to support struggling readers including students with dyslexia. South Dakota has recently begun developing a statewide literacy plan, and the work in the SD SPDG grant proves to be integral in the statewide literacy plan development. Continued collaboration allows the state to better serve all schools in the areas of literacy, data-driven decision making, and family engagement. South Dakota will continue using SPDG funds to support state staff in offices who are providing expertise to the SPDG activities, including the Division of Educational Services and Support and the Division of Learning and Instruction.

Travel

SPDG co-directors and leaders in key areas of the grant (including family engagement, coaching, and leadership) will continue to perform regular site visits to SPDG districts and buildings to provide onsite technical assistance and fidelity checks. While some of these visits may be conducted virtually, feedback from building leadership indicates that face-to-face meetings are preferred. South Dakota continues to build the capacity of our leadership team by including them in state-sponsored professional development and various conferences related to grant goals and activities.

Contractual Services

SPDG coaches and building leadership continue to share positive feedback on the support provided by the external coaching coordinator, who also provides administrator support. South Dakota will continue partnering with this external contractor to provide coaching and leadership support to SPDG schools and coaches.

Professional Development

Professional development continues to be a high priority in the SD SPDG. The SPDG State Leadership Team utilized detailed data related to professional development to create a professional development plan for the 2021-2022 school year. This plan addresses the needs of SPDG schools and identifies sustainable training supports to schools statewide. For example, the Family Literacy Training will be offered as a Train the Trainer event open to all schools statewide. The LETRS training will be open to a second cohort of teacher leaders across the state. A team of trainers will attend Dr. Anita Archer's Explicit Instruction Train the Trainer even in the summer of 2022.

The Team continues to meet regularly with leadership from other SD initiatives (SD SSIP, SD MTSS, and SD State Plan to Support Struggling Readers including Students with Dyslexia) to identify collaborative training opportunities. To enhance collaboration and alignment with state initiatives with similar goals, South Dakota will utilize remaining funds to provide several professional development opportunities. One training that has been developed through this partnership is an Introduction to Dyslexia training. This is a two-hour introductory training for all teachers and school leaders in South Dakota and will provide a shared understanding of dyslexia, tools to identify dyslexia, and instructional strategies to support students with dyslexia.

Supplies & Materials

As South Dakota scales up training to all schools statewide, we recognize that some districts may need support in purchasing training textbooks and materials. To support all schools in attending SPDG-funded training, South Dakota will use budgeted funds for Supplies and Materials to purchase training materials for schools who indicate a need.

Grants

Several districts have remaining conference funds. The SPDG State Leadership team agreed to allow districts to use remaining funds to attend grant-related conferences to build on existing knowledge and work toward sustaining grant practices. SPDG districts responded positively to the ability to purchase additional supplies and resources for new-to-district teachers and paraprofessionals. South Dakota will continue providing support to schools with new-to-district teachers and new-to-district paraprofessionals.

SECTION C - Additional Information (See Instructions. Use as many pages as necessary.)

Continued SD SPDG Partnerships include:

- SD Parent Connection – family engagement
- Birth to 3 (Part C) – early literacy, SSIP coaching
- Utah State University – external evaluator, facilitator
- Dakota State University – IHE, literacy

Changed SD SPDG Partnerships:

- One coach in the Rapid City School District moved to a classroom position in the 2020-2021 school year. A second coach moved to support one building. The district struggled to hire two coaches to fill the open coaching positions. In December 2020, the district hired one additional coach. The Coaching Coordinator worked extensively with the new coach to prepare him to continue grant activities in coaching and data analysis. With these changes in coaches, the Rapid City School District is implementing grant activities with seven buildings instead of eight.

South Dakota does not anticipate any changes in partners during the next reporting period.

South Dakota currently has no changes needed for grant activities.

South Dakota continues to operate implementation teams around each of the key grant areas: MTSS/Data-Driven Decision Making, Coaching, Literacy/Instruction, Family Engagement, and Leadership/Sustainability. Each state-level implementation team oversees activities related to their respective area, provides targeted support to SPDG schools, and reports on updates monthly during SPDG State Leadership Team meetings. This allows team members with expertise in their respective areas to provide high-quality support to SPDG schools. Monthly meetings allow implementation teams to collaborate and ensure supports are provided seamlessly with one another.

Sustainability continues to be an ongoing focus during the grant timeline at the district and state level. Each SPDG school has a section of their action plans dedicated to sustainability planning. During the annual building leadership team meetings, presenters provide guidance and set aside time for building leadership teams to review and refine sustainability plans. Teams are encouraged to include district administrators who make personnel and financial decisions, as these are often key areas of decision-making in the sustainability process. At the state level, South Dakota continues to work across divisions and initiatives to align training and support to schools statewide. South Dakota has recently begun developing a statewide literacy plan, and the work in the SD SPDG grant proves to be integral in the statewide literacy plan development. Continued collaboration allows the state to better serve all schools in the areas of literacy, data-driven decision making, and family engagement.
